Chicago Eastside Millennium Art Festival

Amdur Productions Launches a New Festival for Chicago Art Lovers

WHAT: Located just steps from Chicago's infamous "Bean" at Millennium Park, Amdur Productions present the Chicago Eastside Millennium Art Festival. Originally founded years ago by Amdur Productions as the New Eastside Artworks, the Eastside Millennium Art Festival is reborn and returning to Michigan Avenue, Lake and Stetson Streets. The Eastside Millennium Art Festival showcases the work of 150 juried artists from across the United States. Extraordinary examples of two-dimensional and three-dimensional work are represented at the festival.

HIGH-LIGHTS: Open to the public, the Eastside Millennium Art Festival offers guests the opportunity to enjoy and purchase exceptional artwork from masters in the field. Live music, great food from local and national vendors, as well as fun activities just for kids also take place at the festival. Nearby attractions including the internationally acclaimed Art Institute, interactive water sculptures and "The Bean", make for a perfect day of exploring art and the city of Chicago.

COST: FREE Admission
